QUESTION	RESPONSE
I would like to see a copy of the report about the experiment that took place in 2016 when a group of practices tried to work together to create a minor injuries unit.	A search of files was undertaken however we were unable to find any information, therefore the ICB does not hold the information.

The information provided in this response is accurate as of 23 May 2023 and has been approved for release by David Jarrett, Director of Integrated and Primary Care for NHS Bristol, North Somerset and South Gloucestershire ICB.
